Threats Hurled In Tumultuous Council Session

SERVICES CONTINUED as usual Sunday at Holy Angels Catholic church on San Pedro road, Colma, despite ravaging fire Friday which did damage estimated between $10,000 and $20,000 to the altar, wall and roof at the rear of the edifice. Members of Colma fire department are shown here removing charred furniture and vestments from the place of worship. Father Thomas Farrell, pastor, discovered the blaze at 11:15 a.m. and summoned Colma and Daly City fire departments, who battled nearly an hour to extinguish the fire. Authorities believe that the blaze was caused by children playing with matches.

Judge Scott Issues 'Show Cause' Writ On Johnstone Firing, Hilltop License

REVOCATION IS ORDERED LIFTED; CASE DUE SEPT. 29

Liquor license of the Hilltop Lodge, 22 Hillcrest drive, was technically revoked September 2, but duration of the revocation was only 10 days, as Superior Court Judge Edmund Scott Monday ordered the state director of alcoholic beverage control to set aside his August 29 decision.

In an alternative writ of mandamus, the judge stayed execution of the revocation order and commanded Russell S. Monroe to set aside the September 2 beverage control ruling or show cause why it should be carried out. The hearing will be held Thursday, September 29, at 1:30 p.m. in Judge Scott's court.

John J. Fahey Jr., filing for the writ on behalf of the Lodge's owners, George and Ann Kirchhubel and Dan Pallas, said the revocation order was "arbitrary, discriminatory, without rights and was depriving the petitioners of substantial property without any evidence at all."

According to Fahey, the alcoholic beverage control board "departed from the findings of the appeal officer and based his decision upon claimed acts which were not found to exist" and not part of the several hearings held before the board of equalization, which then had jurisdiction.

Fahey maintained the revocation order was "unlawful, erroneous," and contrary to both the state and federal constitutions.

His argument was based on the stand that a private investigator was hired by the district attorney's office "to solicit" the acts which the Lodge was charged with, namely the sale of narcotics.

SCHOOLS CROWDED BUT OPENING WEEK "SMOOTH"

Despite some complaints about double sessions, opening of school in the three local districts came off "without a hitch" Monday and enrollment proved almost identical to superintendents' estimates.

Jefferson Elementary School district saw 4699 children report Monday, slightly under Superintendent H. Z. Weible's 4775 estimate. Double sessions are in progress in 18 classes distributed among Olympia, Garden Village, Benjamin Franklin and Westlake schools. "I'm surprised. It started very smoothly," said Weibel. The cafeteria at Colma school will open September 19.

At Jefferson High school, 1750 students reported, with 50 more anticipated this week, bringing the figure to a total of 1800, as predicted by Superintendent Stanford Hannah.

The cafeteria and old auditorium will have to be used as study halls and student body assemblies will be held only occasionally.

Laguna Salada Elementary school district greeted 2082 youngsters, not including 400 kindergarten children, who won't be able to start their triple-sessions stint until Pedro Valley No. 1 school is completed in about two weeks.

Superintendent Frederick Lucas also voiced the opinion that everything, including the complex transportation set-up, "went smoothly."

Opening of Our Lady of Mercy parochial school, scheduled for next Monday, will be delayed until September 26 because the building is still under construction, according to Father Richard Power.

Registration for accepted students at the parish house, 692 North Mayfair, is underway this week, with sign-up scheduled as follows: First graders, Thursday morning; second and third, Thursday afternoon; fourth and fifth, Friday afternoon.

SEPTEMBER 22 DATE SET FOR CITY ARGUMENT

A writ of mandamus ordering Daly City council to re-instate David Johnstone to his police job or show cause next week why it had not done so was issued by Superior Court Judge Edmund Scott Monday.

The writ set aside the council's dismissal of Johnstone May 23 and ordered that he be paid full back pay as inspector on the local police force, unless the council substantiates his firing.

The writ in Johnstone's behalf, filed by Attorney John J. Fahey Jr., said that City Manager Howard Stites letter to the effect that Johnstone was not governed by ordinary rules of good conduct, was "not true" and that the council's action in dismissing Johnstone was "prejudicial, arbitrary, capricious and without cause or justification."

Fahey claimed Johnstone's discharge was a "deprivation of his rights."

Named as respondents in the judge's order were the City of Daly City, the individual council-

Dog Goes Up For One On House; Comes Down On Firemen's Ladder

One of Daly City's mongrel dogs must have heard somewhere about "having one on the house."

The pooch in question took it literally Wednesday night, as firemen found the canine howling atop Gerold's Liquor store at 6379 Mission street.

Herb Bethe, partner in the store, said he heard a dog barking about 8:30 p.m. Forty-five minutes later he still heard the noise and finally went out to investigate, where he discovered the dog perched precariously on the roof of the building.

Bethe called police, they called the firemen and a ladder was soon brought to the rescue.

Firemen were unable to get the dog's name, ancestry, or his method of gaining access to the roof top, since the canine departed post haste.

DC Couple Killed In Auto Crash

A Daly City couple were killed instantly Wednesday in an auto accident near Ritzville, Wash., Daly City police learned yesterday.

Dead are: William Steinhoff and his wife, Vivian Gorlan Steinhoff, of 100 East Moltke, apt. 30.

Steinhoff, western regional representative of the National Multiple Society, just moved here recently with his wife. They had been married only a short time, according to San Francisco office of the MS society.

Although no personal information was available on the couple since they have no living relatives in this area, it was believed the two victims each have grown children by previous marriages, living in the East.

MIRIAM RESIDENTS PROTEST LAND FILL

Charge by Miriam street homeowners that fill dumped in back of their homes was rotting their buildings was heard in a petition received by the city council Monday night.

Residents of homes from 251 to 267 Miriam said the fill was an "attractive nuisance, unsightly," and was causing damage to their buildings and yards.

Mrs. Mickey Anderson presented the petition.

The council turned the case over to City Attorney Frank Blum, who will consult with property owners allegedly causing the condition.

LIGHT REPAIRS COST CITY $1100 IN THIRTY DAYS

Street light failures in the past 30 days have cost the city more than $1100 in PG&E repair bills, City Manager Howard Stites revealed Monday night.

The most recent break-down came last week in Westlake, and cost $594 to be repaired, Stites said.

Stites said he would prepare an estimate of cost to replace cables and ducts throughout the city to prevent future costly failures.

Stites pointed out that $50,000 of the city's coming budget is for street lighting. This amounts to two-sevenths of the general taxes levied on every dollar.

In other action Monday, the

GIRL, 15, THOUGHT MISSING; ELOPED TO RENO, NEVADA

A 15-year-old Daly City girl, reported missing for 27 hours this week, has been located in Reno, Nevada, where she eloped with an 18-year-old local youth, according to her mother, Jewel Smith, 353 Lowell street.

Mrs. Smith said she had not seen her daughter, Margaret "Bunny" Smith, since 7:30 a.m. Tuesday morning when she left for school at Jefferson High.

The mother became alarmed at 5:30 p.m. that day and notified police.

At 10:55 a.m. Wednesday she received a call from her daughter in Reno, who said she had married her steady boy friend of more than a year, Herman Stevenson, 18, of 200 Parkview.

Police stamped a "case closed" on the incident.

Will Spend $5630 For Drain Job

An adequate drainage system could be installed in the First and Valley street area for about $9000, City Manager Howard Stites told the council Monday night.

He said facilities to handle drainage from the run-off area west of First and Valley could be installed for $5630, while a system to handle the Mission run-off could be built for $3635.

The $5630 project alone, he said, would eliminate 75 per cent of the flood problem.

For about $13,000, Stites added, the problem could be cleared up 100 per cent.

Councilmen agreed to go ahead

DONATI ORDERED OUT OF CHAMBER

Two persons were ejected and threats of bodily harm were hurled Monday night in the city's most violent council meeting in nearly a year before a throng of approximately 200 jeering, applauding persons jamming the chambers.

Debate over the David Johnstone firing, Hilltop Lodge dance permit, and the city treasurer's salary ignited heated tempers throughout the two-hour long session.

Hilltop Lodge Dance Permit Sought Again

Motion to hold Hilltop Lodge's application for dance permit in abeyance was tabled at Monday night's council meeting, pending a report from City Attorney Frank Blum "on what they're doing in San Francisco" on permits to where the applicant is appealing a liquor license revocation order.

Councilman Sanford Vickers first asked for "full particulars of the higher courts," since the revocation of the establishment's liquor license has been appealed and comes up for hearing September 29.

Vickers moved the matter be

Order Governor To Explain Why No Election Here

Governor Goodwin J. Knight will be called before the state supreme court November 1 to explain why he has not called a special election to fill the State Assembly post in the 25th and two other districts.

The court acted Thursday on writ of mandate filed by Thomas Jenkins, Broadmoor attorney who has been selected as Democratic candidate in the event the election is called in the 25th district, which includes northern San Mateo county (Daly City, South San Francisco, Colma, San Bruno and the Coastside).

The court also issued writs in suits brought by the 35th and 75th districts.

Dino Donati, proprietor of a pinball machine outlet at 6240 Mission street, whom District Attorney Keith Sorenson says is an exbookie by his own admission, was ordered to leave the chambers by Mayor Joseph Verducci after directing several derisive remarks to the council when tavern owner George Kirchhubel had the floor.

"Mr. Donati does not have the floor, yet he continues to make remarks. Everybody is entitled to have their opportunity to speak when the floor is their's. Will you take Mr. Donati out," Verducci said to Sgt. August Benassini, on duty at the meeting.

Donati, alleged to be a close friend of the ousted Johnstone, kept his seat for half a minute, and hollered at the mayor, "How do you know I made the remarks?"

"I know your voice and I know it was you," Verducci replied.

"I'll Get You"

As the police officer approached him, Donati left the room, yelling at the mayor as he left, "I'll get you for this Verducci. You ought to hold a Joe Stalin day here."

Earlier in the meeting, while the council was discussing application of Hilltop Lodge for a dance permit, Ann Kirchhubel, one of the owners, shouted at Councilman Sanford Vickers' motion to hold the matter in abeyance, "You lie, you lie, Vickers. You wino!"

The mayor asked that she had better leave and she voluntarily withdrew from the chambers.

Later in the evening, however, while the council was in study session in the city manager's office, Mrs. Kirchhubel returned and sat on the arm of Vickers' chair for about five minutes. During that time she mumbled several comments about the council's business at hand. She left when her husband came into the room and guided her out.

Bitter Exchanges

The bitter exchanges started shortly after the session opened when a letter from Arthur Bodien, president of the newly-organized political group, "Better Government for Daly City," was read. It asked that dismissed officer Johnstone be granted a new hearing and that the city discontinue use of the War Memorial community center for office space.

After the letter was read, Verducci asked, "Has any councilman changed his mind on the Johnstone

Jack Kendree Named DC Chamber Commerce Head

The Town Record

By MONTE DAYTON

The Daly Toastmasters, a group devoted to self improvement through public speaking, were wrapped up in a six-minute talk being given Thursday by Westlake TV man JERRY STRAUSS on the evils of the small claims court, conducted by Judge THOMAS L. BOCCI.

Just after Strauss concluded his talk Judge Bocci made an unexpected experience in the Toastmasters room at San Pedro lunch.

Almost utter silence prevailed.

Daly City's newest political offspring, Better Government for Daly City, which is seeking to overthrow the present council, holds its meetings at Little Italy hall.

A peek in at their meetings reveals one of politics' ironies: Almost a dozen of the cogs in the Better Government group are the persons who were whooping it up joyously on April, 1954, at Little Italy hall where a victory celebration was held when three of the present council went in on a landslide election.

And AL PETTIGREW, one of the most vociferous of the Better Government clan, is still called out by the city for tow-truck service on auto wrecks, a "turn the other check" attitude if we ever saw one.

U. R. "Jack" Kendree, managing director of Westlake Shopping Center, was named president of the Daly City Chamber of Commerce at their annual meeting held this Thursday at Lake Merced club.

Kendree, who was formerly vice president of the Chamber, will take over the job held for the past year by Fred Martin, local insurance agent.

Kendree's staff of officers for the year will include Hugh Smith Jr., vice president, Alice Van Over, secretary, and William Sweeney Jr., treasurer. The last two were re-elected.

Five of the 15 directors whose terms had expired were all re-elected to three-year posts. They included: Herb Sharpe, Tom Gilbert, Sweeney, William Kennedy and Jack Price.

Elmer Kennedy, Daly City fire chief, addressed the Chamber yesterday on fire prevention week, October 9 through 15, which the Chamber has endorsed and will help publicize.

Popular Columns Are Back In "The Record"

This week marks the resumption in THE RECORD of two popular neighborhood columns, "News From Here and There," by Eleanor Doyle, and "Village Notes," by Gwin Mitchell.

The two columnists are back to report the summer's social happenings in Daly City and Broadmoor and to carry on their regular coverage of family news items.

Follow these two columns each week in THE RECORD.

PROUDLY HELD are the two trophies won at the state-wide 25th annual convention parade of Italian-Catholic Federation. Winner of the two awards is the local unit, Branch 19, Holy Angels church. Shown here with the trophies are (left to right) Louis Massoni, president; Angie Firpo, secretary; and Ario Gregorio, first vice president. Two prizes were for the best marching unit and for the second best decorated car. Each local winning unit competed against 14 other competitors.

The hole-in-one contest will officially commence with the Bob Silvestri testimonial dinner, with the actual contest commencing on Saturday, October 1, at 11 a.m.

Hilltop Lodge Dance Permit Is Sought Again

held in abeyance until final determination by the court on the liquor license. After a noticeable period of silence, Mayor Joseph Verducci offered a second to the motion.

Councilman Edward Dennis asked if a license had ever been granted in San Francisco where an appeal is pending.

Blum replied he didn't know of any instance where dance permits were granted in the interim, but said that issuance of a dance permit to the Hilltop could "possibly" be used as evidence by the owners in the liquor license hearing, in answer to a second question by Councilman Micheal DeBernardi.

Co-owner George Kirchhubel assured the council he "wouldn't" use the dance permit to help his case in court.

Dennis then moved to table the original motion by Vickers pending Blum's investigation of San Francisco policy. Councilman Del Wilson seconded the motion, thus tabling it.

Requests for dance permits from Our Lady of Perpetual Help church and Wit's End Cave, 6055 Mission street, were approved by the council, on recommendation of Police Chief Roland Petrocchi.

men, and Stites.

Fahey pointed to the fact that Johnstone, who had also been charged with "association with known gamblers" and "failure to inform superior officers of all investigations," was absolved by the three-man civil service board of review.

Daly City will present its argument to the writ in Judge Scott's court Thursday, September 22, at 1:30 p.m.

FRED COLLINS, local inspector for the county health department, is back on duty after a two-months rest following a stroke.

A display advertisement for Westlake Homes last week headlined, "Back To School—Off To a Good Start, in Westlake with its complete school facilities!"

But kids are still on double session there, and will be for the entire term.

GUS FORD, head of the Daly City water department, has put in for a raise in salary classification, but it won't be there when the budget's adopted.

Ford, the council says, is already out "politicking" against them.

Localite TONY MASINI is among the candidates listed for the San Mateo county farmers ASC committee. We don't know what the ASC means, but anyway Tony's is listed as a candidate for the five-member committee.

JOHN McGRATH, brother of Jefferson High football coach JOE McGRATH, has been selected as new basketball coach at Washington High school in San Francisco.

The third McGrath coaching brother is at Sonora high.

And Coach JOE VERDUCCI's rap against "days" for famous athletes seems to have been taken to heart by PHIL RIZZUTO of the New York Yankees.

Rizzuto, on being offered a "day" for himself in his hometown, Hillside, N.J., accepted, but made it plain that all gifts received should go to a scholarship fund to make possible college educations for deserving students.

Precisely the suggestion made by Verducci.

democratic chairman, expressed "delight" at the court's order.

"Deny Representation"

He said the governor's refusal to fill the three vacancies "denied representation in the state legislature to hundreds of thousands of Californians." Kent said, "I have every confidence the supreme court will order Knight to do his constitutional duty if he should fail to call the special election by November 1."

The 25th district is without representation because of the resignation last December of Daniel J. Creedon, Republican, who was elected to the office only a month earlier.

Knight refuses to call an election in this and the other two districts until requested to do so by the boards of supervisors in the counties which encompass the districts.

Knight will be represented at the November 1 hearing by Leonard Friedman, a deputy in the office of Attorney General Edmund "Pat" Brown, while the 25th district plaintiffs will probably be represented by either Kent or Mel Cohn, San Mateo county Democratic central committee chairman.

The attorney general has issued an opinion that while it is the governor's constitutional duty to call special legislative elections to fill vacancies, the courts have no power to force him to act.

Jenkins "Very Pleased"

Jenkins told THE RECORD he was "very pleased" to see the court had granted hearing. "The possibilities are strong that the court will decide in our favor," he opined.

Jenkins expressed the belief that while it is "not likely, there is a possibility the case might go to the U. S. Supreme Court, if the election is not called, since it was an issue of enforcing the state constitution."

After hearing the matter November 1, the state court will probably reach a decision within 10 days.

If their decision is favorable to the plaintiffs, an election could not be consummated before late December, Jenkins said. However, he pointed out, this would still give the elected Assemblyman an opportunity to serve during the entire January sessions of the legislature.

Instrumental, along with Jenkins, with filing the writ to force an election in this district were Bob Buchanan of Broadmoor and Edna Calhan of Sharp Park.

Daly City Internationally Famous As Newsreel Tells Of David's Parade

A DISPLAY OF SUB-MORONIC TACTICS

A more appalling and abhorrent display of sub-moronic tactics we have never witnessed as at the meeting of the city council Monday night.

A crowd of nearly 200 people, most of whom, we hope for their sake, were merely victims of a mob-type psychology, booed, jeered, clapped and generally took part in a sordid display of what was supposed to pass for "citizen protest."

The issues themselves are ones which would promote sincere debate, i.e., the firing of a police officer and the use of the community center for office space.

The proponents of re-instating the officer and restoring the community center for recreation use have an unquestionable right to argue their cases.

But the mud-slinging, childish remarks whispered aloud, and grim threats reminiscent of gangland days have no place in a session of this city's municipal governing body.

While we are in opposition to some of the councilmen's policy and endeavor to say so when we are so disposed, we are in violent disagreement with any element that attempts to gain its objective through anarchic methods such as those used Monday.

No council, regardless of its popularity, should have to be subjected to the slander mouthed at the meeting.

If a citizens group is at odds with the council, it is that group's prerogative to use its facilities to remove that council from office through the natural method—an election.

The only time when this normal course of events is altered is through a recall election—and the council by no means has committed any indiscretion serious enough to call for this maneuver.

But Monday, persons who have never seen the inside of the council chambers up to a few weeks ago and who have probably only a passing acquaintance with this municipality, suddenly appeared to raise strident voices on issues which they had probably just heard of a week before from one of the political "leaders."

The two local school districts spend nearly $3,000,000 a year between them, nearly three times the city's budget. Yet not more than two or three members of this group have ever seen the inside of the school board chambers or even know such an agency exists.

We're interested in better government for Daly City, too—but Monday's outrageous demonstration was not aimed at better government, and such debacles never will be.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

More Congrats For "Canada Ernie"

Dear Mr. Bradshaw:

The following letters are additional replies we have received concerning the New Glory 50 Star Flag:

Dear Mr. Schallebaum:

Thank you very much for sending me the story of your 50-star flag. I was interested in how you have developed this flag and in some of the other things described in the article.

It would be interesting to know if the United States ever will be able to add two more stars to Old Glory!

With kindest regards,
Sincerely yours,
Milton R. Young
Senator from N. Dak.

Dear Mr. Ernie:

Thank you for sending me the article regarding the "New Glory" flag.

I am returning to Hawaii next week and will certainly ask the Governor to let me see the one you have sent to him.

With my aloha,
Mrs. Joseph R. Farrington
Delegate from Hawaii

Dear Mr. Schallebaum:

Many thanks for your interesting conception of the new look in Old Glory which will come about when Hawaii and Alaska are at long last admitted into the Union. I wish not only to acknowledge receipt of the 50-starred design but to express my since aloha for your continued efforts in behalf of Hawaiian statehood.

Those of us who have been in the van of the statehood movement in Hawaii for the past several decades are sustained and encouraged in this long campaign by mainland adherents, such as yourself, who have joined with us in this cause.

New legislation to admit Hawaii into the Union will be introduced in the second session of the current Congress which convenes in January, 1956. If you and your friends will once again communicate your support of this legislation to your senators and representatives in Congress, and encourage others to do so, the result cannot but be helpful.

Sincerely,
Samuel Wilder King
Governor of Hawaii

Sincerely yours,
"Mr. Canada Ernie" Schallebaum

GI Says Nothing Like Reading About Home

Dear Editor:

I have been receiving THE RECORD from you since I hit the far east July of '54 and I am still receiving the paper now. I would like to express my sincere thanks and appreciation for that wonderful service because there is nothing in the world like reading your home town news when you're so far from home.

I have a couple of months left in Korea now and then back to good old Daly City again and I'll never gripe about the fog again believe me.

My sincere thanks again for sending THE RECORD to me.

Yours truly,
Leo Giannecchini

ALLAN C. DE SOUCY, (left) is presented a bronze pin for his years of government service. Colonel Edwin M. Eads, AF Installations Representative, South Pacific Region, presented the pin and commended Mr. deSoucy for maintaining the consistently high standard of conduct and efficiency required to earn the pin.

Air Force Honors DC Man 10 Years in Government

The U. S. Air Force announced today that Allan C. deSoucy, of Daly City, was recently awarded a bronze 10-year pin for his years of government service. The presentation ceremony was held at 630 Sansome street, San Francisco. The pin was presented by Colonel Edwin M. Eads, who is officer-in-charge of the Air Force installations representative office, South Pacific region, where deSoucy is employed.

Prior to awarding the pin, Colonel Eads pointed out that a consistently high standard of conduct and efficiency was required to earn the pin, and he commended deSoucy for maintaining this standard throughout his government career.

The pin was long overdue inasmuch as he has completed 18 years of government service. However, the Air Force is initiating the award of the bronze 10-year pins this year for the first time. Because of the length of service held by deSoucy, he was singled out as one of the first department of the Air Force employees to receive the pin.

He began his career in 1926 and worked from that time until 1940 as field and office engineer with the state highway departments of Idaho and Washington, and with the Corps of Engineers. In 1940 he went to Ketchikan, Alaska, where he was Field Engineer for the Corps of Engineers on the first new Alaskan Air Force Base, which was constructed at Annette Island.

He underwent quite a climatic transition in 1941 when he accepted a position with the Corps of Engineers in the Panama Canal Zone. As one of the key engineers in the Panama Engineer Division he directed engineering work on location and construction of many Army Air Corps facilities, canal zone roads, gun emplacements, bridges, search light positions, docks, etc., on projects from the Galapogos Islands, South America, to Nicaragua, Central America.

He returned to Alaska in 1943 to serve as Chief, Rivers and Harbors Branch, Alaskan Defense Command, at Anchorage, where he was charged with expediting Aleutian Island harbor construction and defense work. In 1944 he was chosen as Chief, Grounds Branch for Headquarters, Air Materiel Command, and directed engineering work for Air Materiel Command installations throughout the United States.

In 1947 he went to Langley Air Force Base, Hampton, Virginia, where he was Chief Engineer for the Base. In 1951 he accepted his present position in San Francisco, which is that of Chief, Engineering Division, AF Installations Representative Office, South Pacific Region. In this position he is charged with the resolution of engineering problems for the current Air Force construction program in California, Arizona, Utah, Nevada, and several Pacific Ocean islands. The program presently under his review, which includes a number of varied and unique facilities, is valued at approximately $45,000,000.

DeSoucy is a 1926 graduate of Washington State college. He also attended the University of Washington, and is a graduate of Arlington High School, Arlington, Washington.

He is an associate member of the American Society of Civil Engineers, and is also a member of Lions, International.

He and his wife, Christine, reside at 136 Thiers street, Daly City.

Rec Arts & Crafts Program A Success

By the Recreation Dept.

The 1955 summer arts and crafts program was a success from beginning to end. Many different types of activities were offered to the children of Daly City at the following play centers: Community Center, Westlake school, Olympia school, Colma school, Crocker school and Jefferson Elementary.

The program was set up to take care of all children from 6 to 15, although most of the children were between 6 and 12. At each of the centers at least two activities were presented so that all age groups could participate in the program. At certain centers where attendance was high, as many as six activities were presented in one day.

The following is a list of arts and crafts activities which the children participated in—painting, coloring, papier-mache, pyrocraft belts, key chains, lanyards, dog leashes, notebooks, cut paper construction, model airplanes, copper and aluminum tooling, jewelry, candle holders, collage, marbelized paper, mobiles, leathercraft, cloth coin purses, bracelets, wood burning, colored chalk and three dimensional pictures.

The program ended with an exhibit of children's art work which was held at the Daly City community center on August 24 and 25. Awards were given for outstanding work in the above mentioned categories. Award winners included Wardelle Angilley, Roger Benard, Skipper Smith, Florence Benedetti, Linda Howe, Len Jacobson, Jerry Benedetti, Sandy Piccardo, Jimmy Fotenos, Lillian Villas, and Tommy Piccardo, only to mention a few winners.

Many boys and girls who entered their fine work in the exhibit have not picked up their work. If they still want it they can call at the community center.

Sewage Plant Workers OK Social Security

The six employees of the North San Mateo County Sanitation district voted unanimously to take part in the federal social security program, directors revealed at their Monday meeting.

1. Received estimates for gas pump installation. Two figures submitted were $735 and $935.

2. Received estimates of $339 for installation of barbed wire fence around the new disposal plant.

3. Discussed obtaining a two-inch water line from the city of Daly City.

4. Held over C. Norman Peterson bill of $4000 pending final approval of work at the disposal plant.

5. Held over $107 bill from Pump Repair Service for clearing debris from pumps pending investigation of the cause.

6. Heard estimate that landscaping around plant would cost $800.

7. Heard report from the plant superintendent, M. H. Coblentz, who said 1,500,000 gallons of raw sewage daily were being processed by the plant.

Burglar Gets $100 Haul At 113 Peoria Street

A $20 bill, a man's wrist watch and a pressure gun were stolen from a home at 113 Peoria street Tuesday afternoon.

Benita F. Schuster said when she returned home at 7:30 p.m. she discovered someone had broken in through a window on the south side of the building and taken the cash and loot, valued in all at $100.

COLMA MAN HELD ONE HOUR BY TWO KIDNAPERS

Kidnappers who took no money and inflicted no injury abducted the manager of a Colma cemetery for one hour early Saturday morning, dumping him out unharmed in South San Francisco.

Mattrup Jensen, manager of Olivet Memorial park, was accosted at gunpoint by two Mexican men at midnight Friday as he was seated alone in an auto outside a restaurant at 32nd avenue and Sloat boulevard in San Francisco.

Jensen said he was waiting for his brother and his wife to finish eating, when the two men pulled up beside his brother's car. One pulled open the door, ordering Jensen to get out. The man appeared to have a gun in his pocket, Jensen said.

Although the two men drove him around San Francisco nearly an hour, Jensen said when he asked them what they wanted he was ordered to "shut up."

Since the kidnapers refused to take Jensen's money or wallet, police theorized that they were narcotics users who had mistaken Jensen for a contact.

Jensen was dumped out of the car near Hickey boulevard in South San Francisco and walked to his home at the cemetery, reachthere at 2 a.m. and promptly notifying authorities.

The case was turned over to San Francisco police.

Joe Lewkowitz Jr. Arrives In Korea For AF Assignment

Airman Third Class Joseph Lewkowitz Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lewkowitz Sr., of 501 Vista Grande avenue, has arrived in Korea for assignment with the Air Rescue Service as a Helicopter Mechanic.

He will be on duty with the 2157th Air Rescue Squadron—a unit of the world-wide organization dedicated to saving lives. Last year Rescue squadrons from Korea to Saudi Arabia and from Thule to Panama flew over 3000 missions aiding more than 20,000 persons in distress.

In his duties, Airman Lewkowitz will have an important part in keeping the rescue helicopters in operation, ready to go on a moment's notice on search and rescue missions for crewmembers of downed planes.

During his overseas tour, Airman Lewkowitz will have the opportunity to become acquainted with the people and their customs, as well as to visit historical and scenic areas in Korea. He is stationed at an air base near the capital city of Seoul.

A former student at Jefferson Union High school, he entered the service in October, 1954. Before going overseas he attended the Air Force Helicopter Mechanic school.

TV and Radio

By Mona Baker

PERSONALITY SKETCH . . . Completely spellbound . . . with scarcely even a wiggle during the entire half hour of the program . . . the little guests on the "Buckskin Bob" show (KQED, Thursdays, 5:30 p.m.) sit enthralled as "Buckskin" Les Landin relates the historical adventures of his character illustrating his story by clever sketches. A teacher in the Saratoga schools, Les Landin each week presents one of the leading children's programs on the air. He skillfully combines those qualities in his show that we constantly stress in our column, that a television program can be informative and educational as well as entertaining.

We had only to watch the raptured faces of the children in the studio during the entire program, and multiply that by thousands of other children in the viewing audience, to know that the program is doing just that. With an abiding faith in children's ability to learn and enjoy history as a living story, Landin stimulates their interest by his lively stories and clever sketches. He encourages them to use their encyclopedias and history texts to learn the identity of the "mystery man of the week" which he describes.

Les Landin is a very talented person and a fine teacher. Many of his cartoons are published regularly in the leading national educational magazines. In addition he plays the guitar and sings folk songs. In his genial manner he has an extremely effective way with children, and a deep understanding of the proper approach with them. He is completely natural both on the air and off, and with so much talent and such a dynamic personality it is easy to see why his program is so outstanding.

Masters At SJS

Born in Southern California, he graduated from college in the south and later secured his master's degree in education from San Jose State college. This summer he returned to San Jose State and taught a course entitled "Blackboard Techniques." With teachers as members of his class he taught them how to make simple cartoons on the blackboard to illustrate the subjects they teach such as history or even arithmetic. He said he feels this is an effective way to teach a subject, since a teacher always has a blackboard in her room, while films and other illustrated material are not as readily available.

Landin said it is his aim to "weed out those un-desirable aspects of 'blood and thunder' programs that children unfortunately seem to love as a framework for presenting educational material." After watching his program, we could not help but think that he is accomplishing his objective. Quoting from our seven and eight year old critics as we left the KQED studios . . . "Boy, that's a good program . . . I like him. I think I know who the mystery man is . . . Where is our encyclopedia? I want to look him up when I get home."

KIDDIES' CORNER . . . Do you have a favorite little redhead? We do . . . right now we are hoping that San Mateo county's representative for the United Bay Area Crusade, 7 year old Yvonne Teller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford B. Teller, 202 Carlton avenue, San Bruno, will be chosen as "Torchy," this year's campaign mascot. Five little red-headed girls . . . one from each of the five counties—represented in this year's Crusade drive will appear on Marjorie Trumbull's new show "Sunday Supplement," September 18 at 3:30 p.m. over KRON-TV, to compete for the "Torchy" title. The flaming torch is the symbol of the Crusade which this year will raise funds for the 288 Bay Area health and welfare causes. The winner will be selected from the mail sent in by the viewing public and will be presented on the following week's show.

Leading News Program

One of the outstanding local news programs seen on television is "William Winter and the News," seen every Sunday evening over KPIX at 10 p.m. Winter has traveled all over the world including the Netherlands, Italy, the Near East and France, so he is particularly well qualified to give discerning analysis of events the world over. He supplements his commentary with news photos, maps and films, as well as interviews with leading personalities in the news. He recently signed a contract with his sponsor, Pauson and Company, which begins his seventh year of telecasting, the longest continuous sponsorship of any television program in the bay area.

COMING PROGRAMS . . . . NBC's noted children's program "Ding Dong School" (KRON, 10 a.m., Monday through Friday) will feature appearances by children from other countries attired in traditional dress of their native lands. During the next few weeks, youngsters from Sweden, Scotland, Holland and France will appear on the program.

KOVR's fine program, "I Search for Adventure," will feature a fascinating account of the land of Eskimos and Indians entitled "Top of America" on Tuesday, September 20, at 8:30 p.m.

Hi Folks!

It's me again, back after two months vacation, with loads of news about your friends and mine. Missed you all very much, but do hope you all had a nice vacation.

Congratulations to Ray and Sumi Lemon of B street, who welcomed their third child recently. Ramon tipped the scales at 8 lbs., 6 ozs. He was welcomed home by big sister Romona who is five and little sister Monita who is all of four. Grandpa Lemon who also resides in our city is mighty proud. This brings the count up to 11 grandchildren.

Welcome home to Martin Kaczmark of Willits, who recently returned back from a quick trip to Chicago, where he attended the funeral of his sister. This was his second trip there this year and I'm sorry it couldn't have been under happier circumstances.

Just goes to show you that its never too late to learn a new trade. Mrs. Gerry Vickers, who is our cafeteria manager, attended college in Sacramento recently, learning the whys and wherefores of managing a cafeteria. While up there she also celebrated her birthday, so belated wishes to you Mrs. V. Daughter Jerilyn also went along.

Farewell to Bill and Jean Harden of Cottonwood, who recently moved to Santa Clara. Jean used to work at Coopers Kitchen, and is looking forward to being a lady of leisure these days.

That content look on Wilma Van Akens face these days is that the last of the Little Van Akens is in school. Isn't it a wee bit lonesome, Wilma?

Welcome back to the Al Caimes, after spending a couple of years in San Bruno their many friends are glad they're back. Missed the fog, I bet,

At a recent meeting at the home of Pat Urbanis, the Friendly Neighbors of Abbot welcomed Mrs. Daisey Wong into their club. This group also celebrates their sixth year together. Birthday wishes were sung to Liz Kirby and Lorraine Bovero. Each of the girls received a gift from the group. Through the summer (what summer?) the group have been meeting at the San Bruno park and enjoying the evening barbecuing, with everyone having a wonderful time.

Backyard Camping

The women who worked so very hard to make the Backyard Camping a success certainly deserve a big thank you. I'd say it was a big success.

Its good to see Mildred Radzikowski and her two daughters back home, after spending the whole summer in Hawaii.

The Jake Nofzigers of Clark street, Colma, enjoyed the Labor Day week end at the Russian river, basking in the sunshine. They have been busy entertaining his mother and sister, who are visiting here from Ohio.

Den mother of the year I'd say is Mrs. Mary Daniele of Bismark, who all through the summer vacation has been taking her Cub Scouts on a different outing each week.

I hear that Bill & Gladys Colwell, were down over the Labor Day weekend visiting with all their many friends here. They like living in Reno very much, and just to show you she's keeping in touch she gets THE RECORD every week. So hi, Gladys, sorry I didn't get to see you, but I heard and that's why your reading all about yourself way up there.

Welcome to the Charles Silvestri family, who just moved into their new home on Mateo. The whole Silvestri clan now reside here in our city.

Glad to hear that Burt Lagomarsino of Collins avenue in Colma is well enough to leave the hospital, after suffering a slight stroke.

Second Son

Another congratulation goes to the Orsi family of 1185 Hillside, Colma, who recently welcomed their second son. Andriane weighed in at an even 8 lbs. Big brother Lorene, who is seven years old, is mighty proud.

Happy birthday wishes to Gerry and Jimmy Mahood of Moltke, who celebrate birthdays this month. Mom also celebrates her's this month, but she's not saying much about it. Many happy returns to you, Angie, from your many friends.

Sorry to hear that Chief Joe Ryan of Colma is still at the Fort Miley hospital.

The Andrew Castles of Abbot were quite surprised, when his parents, the Kenneth Hansens, paid them an unexpected visit recently. They drove out from Lake Stevens, Wash., in their new Dodge. They enjoyed their visit very much and really toured our city.

Guess we're all glad to hear that Councilman Del Wilson and his wife are out of the hospital.

I had hoped by the time I would be back writing my column, that Herb Ashton would be home to convalesce. But I do hear that he is improving rapidly. Your cards have really helped a great deal. In case you have misplaced the address, it's the Ross hospital, in Marin county.

Belated birthday wishes to Sylvia Weglan of C street, Colma. Hubby had put cards all over the house with money in each card, by the end of the day she had quite a bit of loot and also lots of cards.

A get well wish is being sent to Patty Rasmussen of Wyandotte, who is home now convalescing after an emergency operation. She's still a pretty sick little girl, but hopes to be back at school with all her friends.

Another little gal on the sick list is Star Ruiz, also of Wyandotte, who also spent some time in the hospital recently.

The many friends of John Spitlar of Theta avenue, are glad to hear that he's out of the hospital. Won't be back on the job for some time though and I know that he'll be missed by many of the students at the Colma school.

Ten Day Visit

Two happy kids these days are Diane and Douglass Roach of C street, Colma. The reason is that they just returned from a ten day visit to Los Angeles where they stayed with their Grandparents. Spent a great deal of their time visiting Disneyland and enjoyed every minute of it.

The Phillppus family of Price street are mighty happy these days, reason is that Dad's home, after being at the City of Hope hospital for almost five months. Not able to go back to work as yet, but were all glad he's able to be home once again.

Congratulations to Richard Hicks who is now Pfc. Dick is at Camp Pendleton and quite happy.

Two more of our local boys who have joined the U. S. Air Force recently, are Ted Gifford of Tallwood and Raymond Brown of Parma street. The boys are stationed at Camp Parks, Calif. They were graduated from Jeff in June.

Den 6, Cub Pack 243, enjoyed a cook out at the home of their den mother, Mrs. Stanley White of Wyandotte. The boys each made their own stove and each one prepared their own lunch. The following cubs attended: Jack Durham, Richard O'Toole, Richard Joseph, Frank Voratz and Stanley White. Their cook out was a big success under the watchful eye of their Cub Master, Stanley White.

ready for the second polio in- off her little black book, getting ready for the second police inoculation shots. Just let us know Vi and we'll all be there.

Working must really make Helen Axt very happy, she's now a teller at our Daly City Bank. Guess working around all that loot would make anyone happy.

Threats Hurled In Tumultuous Council Session

case? Let's allow the matter to go to court, and take action from there."

"I want to get the record clear," declared Councilman Edward Dennis. "I voted to sustain the board of review recommendation to clear Johnstone."

His remark was greeted by spontaneous applause.

Bodien then asked for a roll call vote by the council, and again the audience clapped.

"I think you've had time to know how we feel," the mayor countered.

Bodien answered, "There was not a full council when you voted to dismiss Johnstone. We want to know where you all stand."

Vickers said, "Let Councilman Del Wilson tell us. He was the only one absent when we voted."

Wilson, who was in the hospital at the time the vote was taken, said resolutely, "I was absent when it happened, and I'm still absent as far as the Johnstone case goes."

Crowd Groans

The crowd emitted a large groan at this statement.

After a hot skirmish on use of the community center for city offices, Donati again resumed the Johnstone issue.

"This is beyond me," the pin ball machine operator said.

He asked City Attorney Frank Blum if Wilson could declare himself absent on the Johnstone case. "I know he's absent-minded but is he man enough to admit one way or another—he's a public servant," Donati said loudly.

Blum said Wilson was not required to vote on the issue.

"Sit down," Wilson snapped at Donati. "I was in the hospital when the vote was taken and it should make no difference to you."

"Doesn't he legally have to vote?" Donati inquired again. "I want to separate the men from the boys. That's all I wanted to know."

City Treasurer Paul Selmi then switched the battle to the city council's recent statement that he had requested a raise in pay from $75 to $250 a month.

"Misstatement"

"This is a deliberate misstatement by the council, City Manager Howard Stites, the city attorney and all the other intellects in city hall," Selmi charged.

Selmi maintained that Verducci had encouraged him to seek a salary increase, after discovering there was an emergency state law on the books that allowed salary to be raised for an elective position during the term of office.

Selmi said that he had made a verbal request for the salary increase, on Verducci's recommendation, but that he had received no answer, so put it in writing. He said in the letter he never mentioned asking for a raise from his present $75 to $250 a month. The statement by the council to that effect was "done maliciously," in Selmi's words.

Selmi claimed that when he visited city hall to inquire about the letter, Blum said, " 'I've already taken care of it. I've drawn up an ordinance making you license collector.' "

"I knew nothing about this and had nothing to do with it," Selmi said.

At this point Selmi interjected a question on another topic: "I'd like to know, Mr. Blum, if I'm subservient to the city manager. I am an elective officer and subservient to the people, not the manager." Again the audience applauded.

"Get This Correct"

Blum answered on the earlier statement by Selmi. "I'd like to reply. We'll get this correct now.

"I was asked by you about the raise in pay. You asked me about license collection and I told you an ordinance was made. I don't like your implications. They're not true."

"Everything I said was the truth," Selmi retorted.

Blum spoke, "You said I 'would fix it up.' Don't put implications in that don't belong."

"You helped write the statement that I asked for the raise in pay," Selmi answered.

"Sure, I looked at it," the attorney said. "But I couldn't begin to tell you if you were getting a raise in pay. That's not my job."

Verducci said he had on record Selmi's budget request for the treasurer's department, which showed that in 1954-55, he had asked for $3,000 in salaries, which included $900 for himself, $2100 for extra help.

"This year there's no breakdown for the extra help but he's asking $6000 for salaries. That's a 100 per cent increase."

"Yes, but you were going to make me license collector and I was told to figure that in the budget request."

"We did not tell you we were going to make you license collector," Verducci said.

"Up To Voters"

Verducci then declared that deciding of salary for an elective position should be up to the voters. "This emergency statute was made during the war and we don't feel it applicable now," the mayor opined.

"I don't know why, but I'm not liked by you," Selmi said to Verducci. "Councilman Wilson (who used to work for Selmi) told me."

"If you want to go into this, I can tell you plenty," Wilson interrupted angrily.

"I wouldn't be a stooge for you, Selmi, and that's why I'm not working there. I can tell about how you got Andersen (former city administrator) to get your son a job in the city water department."

"Why, you dirty liar!" Selmi yelled. "I'll get you for that . . . you dirty liar. I'll wait until you get well!"

"He's Not Here"

Mrs. Selmi then addressed Wilson. "I resent this 'stooge' statement, although you are a stooge. Let's forget Wilson, he's not here tonight." A roar of applause followed.

Mrs. Selmi said her son, Eugene, maintenance man for the water department," works every night and does good work. He is needed."

"Mr. Wilson is making a great mistake," Mrs. Selmi concluded.

Del Fehl, who revealed he was Wilson's campaign manager at the last election, said, "I'm ashamed to admit it now. Wilson hasn't got the gumption to say yes or no—I'm ashamed."

Bodien told the council, "We'll be back in two weeks."

Bodien then took issue with the council's statement that he, as superintendent of the water department, had allowed a $100,000 expenditure go through for extension of Brunswick street.

Addressing the mayor, Bodien said, "I want you to prove this."

"All we said was that you were in the capacity of head of the department at the time the work was done," the mayor replied.

Demand Explanation

Bodien said he would demand that Verducci explain the statement at the next meeting.

On the community center issue, Ray Brulez said, "The VFW is opposed to using the building for city offices and we'll do all we can to get the organizations to back us up."

The council maintained that use of the center for office space was only a temporary economy measure.

Dennis's, who are back after living in the city for almost two years. This time they're back for good.

Belated birthday wishes to Charles Creasy, another resident of Abbot avenue, who recently celebrated a birthday. A family dinner helped Dad to celebrate the occasion.

Some more of our working mothers are Barbara Baughn from Callan Heights, Lois Bricker of Collina avenue, Colma, and Virginia Moore of Wyandotte.

The youngest camper that I have heard of is, little Donny Orbanos, who at the ripe old age of two months went along with the family on a ten day camping trip up around Sonora Pass. At three months he enjoyed a weekend outing with the folks. Would anyone care to challenge Donny's record?

Sorry to hear about the loss of the new baby of Ann and Doad Gould. They recently moved from our city to Brentwood.

Another belated birthday wish goes to Tony Sinocropi, who celebrated his fourth birthday just a few days ago. All his young friends gathered around to help him blow out the candles.

Eagles Auxiliary Host State Prexy

The Colma Vista Grande Eagles Auxiliary No. 1848 on Tuesday evening were hostess to their state president, Ruby Graves, and other state officers. Co-hostesses for the official visit were Golden Gate No. 61, San Francisco No. 5, and South San Francisco.

The state officers were entertained for dinner at the San Pedro restaurant in Colma.

Officers from the four Auxiliaries took part in the ritualistic work and initiation. The candidates will be presented with Auxiliary pins at the next meeting.

The evening was cause for an extra celebration as it was the state president's birthday. After being presented with gifts from all of the Auxiliaries a birthday cake was brought in and all joined in singing, "Happy Birthday."

After the meeting, refreshments were served in the banquet room which was decorated to represent a night in Mexico.

The state president complimented the Auxiliaries on their fine work and thanked everyone for a lovely evening.

Timekeeper Picks Bad Time To Drive In DC

John William Ennis, 40, a timekeeper who lives at 725 Vallejo street, San Francisco, spent some time in the confines of the Daly City jail early Friday morning after he was arrested on a charge of drunk driving.

Police officer Phillip La Bruzzo picked up Ennis on the 7300 block of Mission street at 2:30 a.m., after he said he observed the man "driving from the shoulder of the road to the center lane and stopping several times in the traffic lane."

A sobriety test at Junipero Serra hospital showed positive results and Ennis was booked at Daly City. La Bruzzo said he refused to sign the fingerprint card or answer questions about any possible past police record.

Municipal Judge Thomas L. Bocci set bail at $250.

Refurbish Vista Grande Ave. Church

Work commenced on the painting of the 101 Vista Grande Avenue Avenue Christian church will be completed within a few days. Dr. Howard Pat McConnell, minister, said the building will be white, with the tower crosses in gold. Preliminary plans are now being discussed concerning the erection of a sanctuary to conform to the architecture of the present building. Everett Allen, president of the congregation, and Robert Miller, chairman of the board of trustees, head the study.

Oliver deGraaf, superintendent of the Sunday school, announces that there is still room for some 75 more of all ages in the Sunday school which meets at 9:30 o'clock Sunday mornings.

Dr. McConnell will speak this Sunday morning on the theme, "The Reverent Heart," honoring the worship commission of the church, headed by Loren Rand.

Events of the week include Boy Scouts on Monday night, Bible Study Wednesday night and "The Church on Thursday night." The prepared dinner is followed by a table program. The minister presides over the dinner and its program.

PRETTY JULIE LANDI, 18, is Daly City's candidate for queen at the first San Mateo county Columbus Day celebration to be held October 8 and 9 in San Mateo. Roy Barghini of Daly City is general chairman for the Italian-American Citizens club, sponsors.

WESTLAKE MOTHER IN APPARENT TRY TO TAKE OWN LIFE

A 29-year-old Westlake mother was treated at Junipero Serra hospital Friday after taking an over-dose of seconal tablets.

Mrs. Pauline Feeny, 20 Lynnewood drive, apt. 1, was rushed to the hospital by Daly City ambulance at 8:15 p.m.

When officer Robert Crooker arrived on the scene the woman was being attended by a resident of an adjacent apartment, Leslie Keate, apt. 25, and a doctor who had responded from the vicinity.

After having her stomach pumped out, the woman was released under her doctor's care.

Police said Mrs. Feeny had apparently tried to take her own life. Marital difficulties were cited as the reason.

The woman's infant child was left in the care of Mrs. Keate.

CALL WESTMOOR HI BIDS IN WEEK, TRUSTEES LEARN

Bids for construction of the $2,000,000 Westmoor High school will be advertised for within a week, according to statement made at the Jefferson High School district board of trustees meeting Monday by Superintendent Stanford Hannah.

He said state division of architecture is ready to give final approval to plans for the Skyline boulevard school.

The board hired two new employees, Mrs. Darlene Grodsky, clerk-typist, and Mrs. LaVerne Castanzo, clerk-stenographer.

In other action, the board:

1. Declined request to lease portion of Jefferson campus for use as a used car lot.

2. Approved adult classes given in past years but stated it would not be possible to conduct a driver training class.

3. Surrendered rights for a pipeline crossing property which Jefferson Elementary district is about to acquire.

4. Authorized Chairman Lyal Ingersoll to attend state trustees convention at Coronado in October.

5. Received communication from Mrs. Sal Germano thanking the swimming program personnel for their fine job in teaching swimming to youngsters. A letter from the Red Cross thanking the district for its cooperation with the water safety program was also acknowledged.

All's Quiet At BPOA As Row On Annex Fails To Materialize

An anticipated controversy over the Broadmoor Property Owners association's endorsement of annexation to Daly City failed to materialize at Thursday's board of directors meeting.

Only ten property owners were on hand, besides the directors, and none raised the question of annexation or incorporation, according to President Jack Baker.

Representatives of the Northgate Transit Co. were on hand to inform the board that they have applied to the state public utilities commission for permission to operate jitneys in Broadmoor.

The board was told that tree trimming program in the area is well underway.

Grant Holman reported on the plan to use Garden Village school property for the proposed gymnasium site. He said, however, that the school board hadn't yet determined as to the legality of the proposal.

Northgate Incorporation Awaits Assessor Report

Thomas Noonan, head of the Northgate Incorporation committee, said today that the situation would remain at "status quo" until the county assessor certifies signatures on the incorporation petition and turns it over to the board of supervisors.

Noonan and a committee of 10 met Monday night to discuss methods of campaigning for incorporation, suggesting mimeographed notices and coffee klatschs as possible ideas.

COAST HIGH SCHOOL MAY BE CONSTRUCTED BEFORE WESTMOOR

Jefferson High School district may have to construct a school in Sharp Park before completing the $2,000,000 Westmoor project, it was learned Thursday at the board of trustees meeting.

Superintendent Stanford Hannah said the astonishing rate of growth in Pedro Valley and other Coastside areas may force immediate construction of a school in Sharp Park. Completion of the Westmoor school is scheduled for fall of 1956. Bids are scheduled to be called within a week.

Trustees devoted the entire session Thursday to discussion of the Coastside's high school needs.

Considerable debate was held on the issue of whether the district should construct one large, or two small schools, in the Coast area. The district already owns one site in Sharp Park.

The trustees made no decision on the number of schools, or on how soon construction would start, but did agree that an architect should be retained to start planning the buildings.

Hannah said that from present Laguna Salada Elementary school district enrollment alone, the Coastside would have 1000 high school students within six years.

Council Adopts Record Assessment -- $25,103,635

Sitting as the board of equalization Monday night, the council adopted a record property assessment role of $25,103,635, as submitted by City Clerk B. C. Ross.

The assessment includes a 15 per cent increase in land valuation which will cost property owners between 75 cents and $2 a year in additional taxes.

There were no protests, oral or written, to the assessment role.

New Superintendents At Broadmoor Presbyterian

Sunday school at Broadmoor Community Presbyterian church finds two new department heads taking over.

Harold W. Holman, 71 Cliffside drive, is superintendent of the intermediate department, while heading the kindergarten department is Mrs. Mark Swoverland, 527 87th street, Broadmoor.

Street Lights Out As PG&E Cable Fails

Street lights in a large portion of Westlake were out all night Saturday when a cable failed, causing a short circuit in a pole at 4 Forest Grove.

A PG&E source said lights in the area bounded by Park Plaza and Fairway, Alemany and Southgate, were out from 10:35 p.m. Saturday to early Sunday night.

Sparks and smoke came from the shorted installation at 4 Forest Grove, but there was no fire damage.

Child Molest Count Dismissed; Emmett Faces New Charge

Child molesting charges lodged against Wesley Emmett, 39, of 390 88th street, Broadmoor, were dismissed in municipal court Tuesday by Judge Thomas Bocci, but Emmett found himself charged with another crime before he was technically released from prison.

Emmett had been charged with molesting a six-year-old Broadmoor girl and had plead not guilty. Motion of his attorney, John Putkey, for dismissal of charges was granted by the judge.

While Emmett was still in the courtroom, however, a letter written by a fellow prisoner at the county jail was found on his person, police said. He was charged with violation of the penal code, smuggling mail from prison, and was released on $50 bail. He is scheduled to appear on the charge Monday at 10 a.m. in Redwood City municipal court.

BPOA ASKS BOARD RESCIND HOG RANCH PERMITS NEAR SCHOOL

Broadmoor Property Owners association directors last week asked county board of supervisors to rescind all permits for hog ranches in vicinity of the new Westmoor High school.

James T. McKay, association secretary, said in a letter to the board that the hog ranches create "a potentially dangerous health hazard."

History Made: Man Beats Parking Meter Charge In Daly City

Edward L. Frye, 815 Washington street, Broadmoor, became probably the first man in Daly City's history to "beat" a $1 parking meter violation "rap" Tuesday.

Frye was issued a ticket on May 14 for being parked at an expired meter, but, unlike thousands of other citizens who pay their fines in lieu of making a court appearance, Frye upset municipal routine by pleading not guilty to the charge on May 25. Several continuances of the case followed.

He said in municipal court Tuesday (acting as his own counsel) that he had deposited a coin in the meter and that the meter was defective.

Frank Blum, attorney for Daly City, said otherwise, maintaining that Frye's case was simply another instance when a motorists had gone away too long and let the meter expire.

His Honor Judge Thomas L. Bocci would have no truck with the legal forensics.

"Case dismissed," he said crisply, and Frye walked out $1 to the good.

Opening Of School Creates Traffic Jam

Opening of elementary schools Monday created, of all things, a traffic jam at two different locales.

Nope, the younger set hasn't started motoring to school, but apparently most of the parents in the district decided to drive children to classes on opening day, according to Broadmoor Police Chief Ray Savage.

Savage said he worked from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Monday morning to clear up the traffic congestion at 87th and Washington street, where parents whose children attend Garden Village school converged.

That afternoon it took from 2 to 3:30 p.m. to clear the area.

Savage said the traffic situation at Hillside and A streets, Colma, near Colma school, was almost as bad Monday, as Officer George Carleton was tied up several hours in the morning and afternoon.

MAN FINDS FRIEND

"Owning State Farm Auto Insurance is like having a friend at your side when you need a friend."

So states Mr. E. M. Poirot of Golden City, Missouri, in a letter written to his State Farm agent after payment of a claim.

"The check from State Farm," he continues, "meant more than the money involved. It meant I had insurance when I needed it. I came to the conclusion that when State Farm says protection, it means protection. And it looks like you leaned over backwards to give it to me."

You, too, can enjoy protection like this—at rock-bottom cost—with State Farm Mutual, the "careful driver insurance company." Just call:

Village Notes

By Gwin Mitchell

It's that time again . . . the time when new lunch pails and bicycles and school buses and messages to parents become part and parcel of the junior traffic jams up and down 87th street, with Mr. Michelsen watching over the crosswalks in his usual careful way. School has started, and the usual adjustments of the first week have been pretty well ironed out, though summertime habits will die hard for some youngsters, and some mothers will have a hard time getting everybody off on time with the proper amount of lunches!

Nearly everybody in our Villages went someplace . . . and most of them camped. The common language concerning Coleman stoves and fishing rods and have you camped at this place or that earned itself some new recruits we know whereof we speak!). Yosemite and the Calaveras Big Trees and Lake Tahoe and Burney Falls and Sequoia National Forest and lots of other places saw Broadmoor families sometime during the summer, and so did some other states, as well.

The Tanners of Garden Lane spent some time in Mariposa, the Helmers of Maddux saw quite a bit of Washington State and northern California, and Pat Stockslager and son Bryce of Ellis went on into Idaho, with Washington also on their list of places to visit. Jan Talbot gathered up her family and left Bradley street behind for the summer while she joined husband Paul up at Mar Vista, where he was resident engineer on the State highway. The Frank Malcewitz family went about the farthest we have heard of, trading Garden Lane for Hawaii. Lucky ones!

People around here had visitors, too. One of the visiting stories we garnered was that of Jim and Sabina Fairbanks of Garden Lane. Evelyn Perkins, Jim's sister, her husband Glen and daughters Evelyn Jeanne and Mary Lou, came all the way from Ohio, to be joined by Jim's brother Leslie, who came down from Stockton with wife Lillian and daughter Janet for a real family reunion. It was the first time Jim and Sabina had seen Mary Lou since she returned from Egypt, where she had spent three years as a missionary. Since she had graduated from the Presbyterian College for Women at Cairo as a music major, and since Evelyn Jeanne and Janet were also proficient musicians, the Fairbanks home became a sort of family music box, with everyone enjoying the impromptu musicales thoroughly. This included Jim Johnstone, who came down from Seattle especially to see Mary Lou!

Some new people came to live in our Villages, including the Pattison family on Sweetwood and the Ray Johnsons on Maddux, and some of our long-time inhabitants have signs on their front lawns indicating that they will be leaving. Our fellow scribe, Verna Duste, is one of these, unfortunately. The Reichs and Walters families have gone, also. The Dustes intend going south to San Mateo, while the Reichs have gone to the East Bay and the Walters turned northward to Marysville. So far, no one has moved west, but that might happen yet when some of our Army wives go to join their husbands overseas.

As always and always, there were New Babies this summer, bless 'em! And a gallant group of mothers fought the fight against a cold wet summer in which a line of wet baby clothes just wouldn't dry. Maybe the September and October months will bring some belated warmth and dry air. . . . Speaking of babies, the nicest thing we heard about this subject lately was that Stoneyford's young John Azevedo, who couldn't come home from the hospital until he was 5 weeks old, is now thriving and growing at a great rate. Some credit for this goes to Sweetwood's Merritt Beckerman, who donated a pint of blood to help the baby along. That makes over six pints Merritt has given, which is something to write about with pride.

There were, of course, birthdays. Birthdays were celebrated with dinners out, with tickets to shows, trips to the beach, trips to the Ice Follies, and having-the-family-for-dinner-at-home. Gerrie Reichard was the proud recipient of a pink bracelet with sequins made by son David. (The Reichards commute from Gilman to the Westlake Camera Shop in a nice new green station wagon now!) Bradley drive was really Birthday Lane a couple of weeks ago. Jackie Murrish and Nina Cheda turned 6 and 7 on August 31, and Mitchell Chernok and Greg Magnusson shared a day too. There were all sorts of parties and trips and neighborhood gatherings for the younger set during the summer.

Jean Nourse, who now lives in a scrumptious house on Montrose avenue in Westlake-on-the-hill, is in the throes of being general chairman for the annual Presbyterian Women's association bazaar. You might give her a thought if you are thinking of clearing out some of your books, as a book booth will be a new attraction at the bazaar this year.

We went, along with half the population of this area, to Garden Village school last week for the mothers' kindergarten orientation talk, and saw mothers Blake, Loomis, Reichard, Swoverland, Orloff, Chestnut, Kolb, Gillespie, Vocke and Arnst surrounded by swirling small fry, or else briskly walking away from same to find a temporary peaceful moment learning about bus schedules and milk money!

Some of the mothers will have more than the usual quota of problems this year, for the double session bogey has reared its ugly head again, turning many a household routine upside down, and causing some concerned parents to wonder whether and if something couldn't be done to ease the situation, such as emergency school facilities a la Linda Mar, or half year sessions for the kindergarten classes. One things' certain—the teachers and the principals don't find it an easy thing to cope with either.

This is the time, too, when our local organizations start regular meetings and projects again, the way in which any community tries to carry its share of responsibility for the extra things which must be done to insure growth and development. Anyone who does the smallest of jobs to help in any of these groups carries a share of this responsibility, which is nice to think about.

So here we are, back in business at the same old stand, and wanting to hear about and share your news of birthdays, anniversaries, new neighbors, new babies, trips, visitors and all the special things which will be happening in our Villages this year. There's a stack of sharp pencils right by the phone just waiting to be used, so keep PL. 5-0679 in mind.

Lamb-Shands Wed At Trinity Church

A double ring ceremony at Trinity Episcopal church in San Francisco Saturday united Nancy Lamb, RECORD reporter, and William Edward Shands of Garden Grove.

The Rev. Leighton Nugent performed the wedding ceremony.

The bride was given away by her father, Robert L. Lamb of Alameda.

As Miss Lamb walked down the aisle she wore a gown of ivory yarn dye taffeta trimmed with hand-run alencon lace.

Her full taffeta skirt was adorned with hand appliqued alencon lace insects. A fluffy taffeta bow accentuated the front side.

Fingertip Veil

She wore a fingertip length veil of ivory french imported illusion.

A spray of stephanotis was carried for a bouquet.

The maid of honor, Pat Lamb, sister of the bride, wore emerald green ballerina skirt, featuring a square neckline, cap sleeves, and matching veil headpiece. A crescent bouquet of baby gold asters was carried.

Best man was John Dowden, while ushers were Robert Maxwell, Ed Pope and Robert Norris.

The bride's mother, Lois Lamb, came attired in an emeraid green velvet dress, copper and green hat, and her ensemble was augmented by butterfly orchids and a coppertone corsage.

Mrs. David Wilson Shands, mother of the benedict, wore a tangerine velvet dress with black accessories.

Reception For 100

Following the nuptials, reception for more than 100 guests was held at the home of Lois Lamb, 3751 Clay street. Floral decorations there, as well as at the church, were in gold tones to carry out the autumn theme.

When the bride departed, she wore a periwinkle blue fitted suit with matching hat and white orchid corsage.

The new Mrs. Shands, daughter of Lois Lamb of San Francisco and Robert L. Lamb of Alameda, is a graduate of Sarah Dix Hamlin school and San Jose State college. She is currently employed as a reporter with THE RECORD.

The groom is son of Mr. and Mrs. David Wilson Shands of Garden Grove. He was also graduated from San Jose State college and is now employed as a reporter with the Sunnyvale Standard & Mountain View Register-Leader.

The couple are now honeymooning and will make their home in San Mateo on their return September 19.

PTA PUBLICITY SHOP WILL HEAR TALK BY RECORD REPORTER

The first of several publicity workshops, sponsored by Seventeenth district, California Congress of Parents and Teachers, and held for northern San Mateo County PTA units, will take place on Tuesday, September 20, at 8 p.m. in Room 1 of the Garden Village school.

Invitations to attend have been sent to the presidents and publicity personnel of James L. Snell, Woodrow Wilson, Hillside, Crocker-Pershing, Colma, Westlake, and Jefferson Union High PTA units, and to 17th District officers in the Daly City area.

Read Luke 6:46-49.

When a flood arose, the stream brake against that house, and could not shake it: because it had been well builded. (Luke 6:48. ASV.)

History records many instances of chained Bibles but not so many, if any, of a chained church. About the turn of this century, a church in Darwin, North Australia, was wrecked by a cyclone. The faithful band of worshipers determined to guard against a repetition of such a disaster. They replaced the destroyed church by a steel-framed building chained at the corners to concrete anchor-blocks.

How important it is for us to anchor ourselves in God through faith in His Son, the Christ, so as to be able to withstand the storms of life! How subtly easy it is when things are going well, to let faith slacken! We are then prone to imagine that keeping hold of God through prayer, Bible reading, worship, and by Christian fellowship and service does not matter much. But when sorrows, setbacks, and losses come; when illness, accident, or bereavement overtakes us, then we realize afresh the need for a daily, virile steadfast faith. As the result of such faith Jesus Christ can keep us serene and strong.

PRAYER

O God, the all-loving and all discerning, we seek Thy forgive ness for the feebleness of our faith. Inspire us afresh to a fuller commitment of our lives to Thee. In the face of storms, from within or without, keep us this day serene and strong; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Secure in Christ, we are ready for any storm.

"Canada Ernie" Proud Of Many Letters On New Glory U.S. Flag

Dear Mr. Bradshaw:

I am proud of the many pleasant letters I have received in regards to the New Glory 50 star flag THE RECORD kindly published July 7, 1955.

Let us all communicate our sincere support for these two American territories. As Governor Samuel Wilder King of Hawaii states in his letter, write to your Senators and Representatives to O.K. the Statehood bill for this coming January session.

It is only in the line of justice that Alaska and Hawaii be represented on our flag. It is in this faith that I designed the New Glory. All American states, not just 48, should be recognized and accepted as a full member of the American Union.

Let us not jeopardize their future, for their future is our future.

Sincerely yours,
Ernest Rene Schallebaum
(Canada Ernie)

pt. 1, 8, 15,

DESCENDING the staircase at the Chapel of Roses in Pasadena are City Manager Howard I. Stites and his elder daughter, Marthalou, who was wed to John Lowell Dopp on August 25. Mr. and Mrs. Stites, other daughter, Shirley Ann, and son, Hal, live at 34 Northgate avenue here. The bride is a graduate of UCLA and recently ended employment with the Atomic Energy Commission. The couple are now in Madison, Wisconsin, where Mrs. Dopp will work on a federal project and her husband will study toward his bachelor of science degree at the University of Wisconsin.

Miss Stites Is Wed In Pasadena Chapel

Miss Marthalou Stites, elder daughter of City Manager and Mrs. Howard I. Stites, became the bride of John Lowell Dopp at an evening wedding performed at the Chapel of Roses in Pasadena on August 25. The Stites family lives at 34 Northgate avenue here.

The bride is a graduate of the University of California at Los Angeles where she was a member of Delta Zeta sorority. She formerly worked with the Atomic Energy Commission and is now employed on a federal project at the University of Wisconsin.

Her husband, son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Dopp of Almond, Wisconsin, is now attending the University of Wisconsin where he is working toward his bachelor of science in agriculture. He recently was discharged from the navy after four years' service.

For her wedding, Mrs. Dopp wore a gown of white chantilly lace and ivory satin. The fitted bodice of lace over satin featured a rounded scalloped neckline and long close-fitting sleeves. The skirt of the gown was inserted with panels of lace on the front and on the long train.

The bride wore a single strand of pearls sent to her from Japan by the groom. Her "something old" was a handkerchief carried by Mrs. Stites at her own wedding.

Bouquet carried by the bride was fashioned of a white orchid, phaleonopsis and stephonitis encircled with white velvet leaf-shaped detail. A white velvet streamer fell below the bouquet.

Her short veil was held by a cap of the same chantilly lace as in her gown.

Miss Shirley Ann Stites served as maid of honor for her sister, and bridesmaids were the misses Diana Gilmore, a cousin, and Arliss Chapman.

All attendants wore princess-style gowns of rose taffeta and matching jackets of chantilly lace. Their bandeaus were fashioned of chantilly lace, and they carried bouquets of pink carnations entwined with blue ribbon.

Richard Ahrling served as best man, and ushers were David MacLeod and Donald Chapman. Male members of the bridal party all wore white dinner jackets.

Substituting for the groom's parents in the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. James Dopp, cousins of the groom. The senior Mr. and Mrs. Dopp were unable to attend because of illness.

Mrs. James Dopp wore a yellow dress with a lace bodice. Her outfit was complimented by white accessories.

Mother of the bride, Mrs. Stites, wore a dusty rose dress of nylon net and lace over taffeta and matching accessories. Corsages for both women were purple orchids.

Reception for 150 guests at the church followed the wedding. The reception line was in the patio.

The couple honeymooned at Lake Arrowhead, enjoyed a short stay in Daly City and proceeded back east to Madison, Wisconsin, where they will make their home.

MAN PLEADS GUILTY TO VAGRANCY, DRUNK CHARGES IN COURT

Stanley Spencer Whitney, arrested last week by police while loitering on private property on Mission street, switched his plea to guilty in municipal court yesterday and was sentenced to 10 days in jail, suspended on condition he be placed on probation for six months and stay out of San Mateo county.

Whitney was charged with vagrancy and with being drunk in a public place.

Judge Ward Thiesen of San Francisco, arrested on Junipero Serra boulevard in Broadmoor September 6 on a charge of drunk driving, pleaded not guilty and jury trial was set for October 18, 9:30 a.m.

Manuel C. Valdez Re-Enlists In Army

Manuel C. Valdez, former Army Sgt. with over 12 years service, last week reenlisted to complete his 20 years for retirement. Valdez, was employed by the American Can Co. as a photolithographer, the skill he learned while in the Army. His wife and four children will accompany him on his travels.

The Valdez family have leased their residence, at 207 Hillcrest, Daly City.

Valdez wears the combat infantry badge, and earned many ribbons in various campaigns.

The Daly City Army Recruiter, Sgt. Robert Robinson, states besides the 20 year retirement, many prior service men are joining, because of the new pay raise received by the Army last April, and the fact that there are many attractive local assignments now available.

Sgt. Mary Engle Womans Army Corps (WAC) recruiter this area wishes to remind that an Army enlistment is for two years. "Army offices are located near you, Post Office building, room 8, South San Francisco, 2865 Mission, and 30 Van Ness avenue," she said.

Huge Crowd Views Local Flower Show

A record crowd jammed the Memorial Building last Sunday to view the Daly City Garden Club's Second Annual Flower Show.

Individuals and floral societies displayed numerous flower and plant arrangements during the eight hour show.

Mrs. E. Kohlauf took top honors for the show, winning five first place blue ribbons. Included in the awards, were two for line and color arrangements and two for dried arrangements. Sixteen-year-old Carl Olgiati won four blue ribbons and other awards.

The smallest and one of the most successful entrants in the show was four and half year old Philip Garay, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Garay. "Flip," as he is called, won an award for each of his three entries. He took a first place and two other ribbons.

Numerous local entrants walked off with awards in the various divisions. Mrs. Mary Rosenburg captured the black and white arrangement category. Gary Von Nostitz, a teenager, won the second award. J. Middleton won a white ribbon in the outdoor section. First prize for kitchen decor went to Mrs. M. Frasu. Bonnie Caylor took first place in the "little things" group.

FALL FROM BALCONY INJURES LOCAL MAN

Frederick Stromberg, 43, of 273 Wyandotte, suffered concussion and minor cuts Saturday evening when he fell from a balcony while painting his home.

He was discovered lying in the driveway by his wife and was rushed to Junipero Serra hospital by Daly City ambulance.

He was hospitalized over night.

FIRST DANCE — Mr. and Mrs. William Ellis Guiles dance the first dance at the reception following their recent wedding at St. Stephens church in San Francisco. The bride, the former Sharon Kathleen Boyle, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. Richard Boyle of 356 Northgate avenue. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Guiles of San Francisco. The young couple both plan to continue their education at San Francisco State college after the wedding.

Double Ring Rites Unite Guiles-Boyle

Miss Sharon Kathleen Boyle became the bride of William Ellis Guiles at a double ring ceremony performed at St. Stephens Catholic church in San Francisco on August 27.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. Richard Boyle of 356 Northgate avenue. She is now attending San Francisco State college where she is a member of Alpha Chi Alpha sorority.

The groom, son of Mrs. and Mrs. Elmo Guiles of 128 Forest View drive, San Francisco, is also a student at San Francisco State. He is a member of Delta Phi Gamma fraternity. The couple both plan to continue their education after their marriage.

For her wedding, the bride wore a gown of delustered satin with a full train. It was fashioned with a bodice of Chantilly lace with long sleeves. The full skirt was accented by a panel of matching lace down the front and back.

She carried a shower bouquet of fleurs de amour, bouvardia and white orchids. Her fingertip silk ilusion veil was held in place by a cap of matching lace.

Mr. Boyle gave his daughter in marriage, and the Reverend Timothy O'Brien officiated at the ceremony.

The church was decorated with white gladiolas, stock and chrysanthemums.

Acting as maid of honor for the bride was Miss Janet Kellogg, and bridesmaids were the Misses Joan Ruggiero, Carol Hemphill and Joan Erickson and Mrs. Howard Biddle.

All attendants were gowned in cocktail-length dresses of nile green crystallete, with matching bandeaus. Miss Kellogg carried a shower bouquet of yellow roses while the bridesmaids' bouquets were of talisman roses.

Jack Morgan served as best man, and ushers were Dave Cordano, Bill Spallas, Ron Davis and Sal Lenci.

The bride's eleven-year-old brother, Terry, performed altar boys duties at the ceremony.

Mrs. Boye wore a dress of periwinkle blue silk with contrasting blue accessories for her daughter's wedding. Her corsage was fashioned of pink cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Guiles wore a mauve silk dress with matching accessories for the occasion. Her corsage was of green cymbidium orchids.

Reception for 250 guests at Hunter's Point Naval Station Officers club followed the ceremony. Again the all-white theme was predominant.

Misses Julanne Desmond and Elaine Bakker, cousins of the bride, were in charge of the guest book.

The newly-weds will return from their honeymoon this weekend when they will be at home to friends at 112 Rivas street, San Francisco.

News From The Parks

Frankfort

As in all previous years, the summer outtings, craft programs and special events kept the children both happy and busy. But if one event could be singled out as holding the most interest for the young age group, the children would vote on the zoo trip. Michele Nordi and Roddy Puci were two youngsters who couldn't understand why visitors stood quite a distance from a performing chimp. They and Sharon Gudel soon found the answer.

Tim Hodenfield and his cousin John Cassel were quite perplexed about how anyone could fix a hippo's tooth without losing an arm; and Linda Marie Scardaci was amazed to see the mother's of monkey island give such good care to their young.

Playground events such as Treasure Hunts, relays, story hours, and skill contests also were well attended by the children. Herb Menekan, Rich Hansen and Otto Villias were three boys who enjoyed balanced relays.

"Pecos Bill" and "Paul Bunyan" stories held the interest of Chuck Oliveira, John Kenny and Pat Hethcoat.

On Friday, September 2, the recreation department sponsored a pet show for the Lincoln-Frankfort area. Because many of the dogs have good but untraceable breeding, we put them in size classifications.

Edgewood

Edgewood, a comparatively new park, is now is the swing of things taking part in all the events that have gone on in the summer program, also walking away with a few ribbons and honors. The Junior Olympics was well represented by us with Sherry Newton receiving the most ribbons for Edgewood and Tom Enberg coming in second. Diane Caruso, checker champion of the eight years and under group, went on to win the city wide tournament for this group. Also Charles Hammond, Christie Hansen, Tina Enberg, and Tom Settera received first place in the city wide coloring contest for their respective ages. The weekly outings have been well supported this year.

At the playground story telling was enjoyed daily by the small children. "The Lady and the Tramp" being their favorite. Also "List of Children Stories" selected by Child Study association was read plus many golden book stories.

Many new things have been tried this year and with new equipment, help of the adults, boys and girls, and donations by various stores the playground has made many new friends and brought back old ones to make this summer a very pleasant one.

Lincoln

This year's summer activities have brought many children to Lincoln park from the surrounding area.

The recreation department's Wednesday program proved to be a great success. Lincoln park was close to the top on the attendance of these outings. There were usually between twenty-five and thirty per week. Fishing day must have broken some kind of a record as it attracted 36 children from the ages of five to fifteen.

On Fridays the children enjoyed a scavenger hunt. Every Friday about 20 youngsters participated in this event.

Only one trip was scheduled for the Lincoln Park "Crew" alone. On August 19th we took a trip to the museum and aquarium.

On Wednesday, August 31st, the last trip was taken for the summer. Forty-two children were taken to Marchbanks for the Penny Carnival. These children were from Frankfort and Lincoln.

Friday, September 2nd, the last summer activity took place at Lincoln playground. This was the annual Pet Show. Dogs were in the majority, but there were many other entrants such as rabbits, pigeons, and cats.

Thus ends a successful summer at Lincoln Park. Thanks to all those who helped on the different activities.

McGrath Picks First Club At Jeff; Opener In 2 Weeks

After daily workouts this week, including "dessert" of a five-minute swim following the rigorous two-hour sessions, Coach Joe McGrath has come up with a tentative starting 11 for his 1955 football machine at Jefferson High school.

With his first practice contest only two weeks away, September 30 against tough Serra High, McGrath figures his number one squad like this: Ted Amirkhan, right end; Harman Kihs, right tackle; Bob Grubb, right guard; John Wiesner, center; Don Monson, left guard; Bradley Brown, left tackle; Jim Giblin, left end; Jim Honeywell, quarter back; Jerry Howard, left half; Ron O'Rourke, right half; and Lee Casentini, full back.

McGrath's present forward wall averages out at a strapping 190 pounds, while his backfield is a shade under 160.

Two Surprises

Two surprises in the starting backfield are Howard and Casentini.

Howard transferred here last year too late to report for football but the 155-pounder was a top sprinter. He's stocky and combined with his speed, McGrath thinks he'll be tough to beat out of a starting assignment.

Casentini is up from last year's frosh-soph and is being tested in the fullback spot to see how he works with the No. 1 gang.

Actually, two of McGrath's boys who figured to be first string backs, Harold Funkhouser and Tex Prentice, haven't returned to school yet. They're on a training stint with the Marine Reserves, but are expected back next week. They will probably have to hustle to squeeze back into the starting line-up, McGrath says.

Water Workouts

Sessions started Monday with a one-hour workout, followed by two-hours a day the rest of the week. McGrath lets his charges dunk in the pool for five minutes after practice in the belief that it's a good conditioner and relaxes the boys, "despite what these guys saying about swimming and football not mixing. A couple of laps around the pool can't hurt them."

The opener against Serra does not loom as frightening as last year, when the parochial powerhouse shellacked Jeff, 32-0.

However, Serra will have two games behind them when they meet the Indians.

McGrath's varsity squad now numbers 33, while there are 26 on the jayvees.

Mossi Earned Run Average Third Tops In American League

For the second straight year, Daly City's Don Mossi of the Cleveland Indians is among the leading American League pitchers in the earned run average statistics.

Figures released this week showed Mossi with 2.57 ERA, third best in the American circuit.

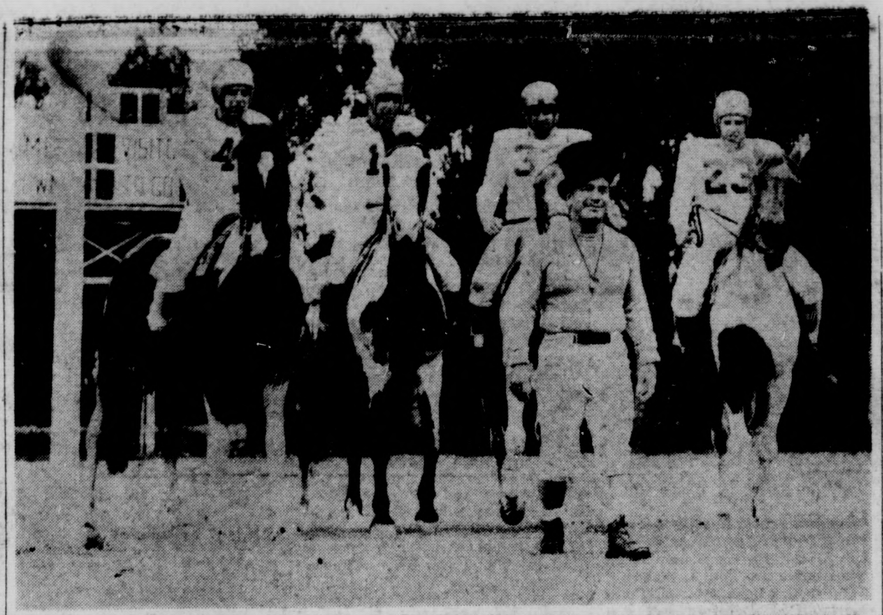
Billy Pierce of Chicago with a 1.89, and New York's Whitey Ford, 2.50, are the only chuckers to top Mossi's earned runs per game average.

Statistics show that Mossi has appeared in 54 games, also high in the league with the exception of Mossi's pitching stable-mate, Ray Narleski, who has taken the mound in 55 contests.

In his 54 appearances, Mossi has pitched 77 innings, given up 75 hits, 21 bases on balls, struck out 62 batters. His won-loss record shows 3-3, but as a relief pitcher, Mossi entered many games in which the opponents held a substantial lead.

DON MOSSI
. . . ERA Third Best

Mossi, who used to perform in sand-lot ball here, and later semi-pro with the Indians two seasons and has been labelled a big factor in Cleveland's league leadership.



COACH JOE Verducci of San Francisco State college, who finds time from his football tutoring to act as Daly City's mayor, still wears part of his official garb (a top hat) as he opened practice sessions this week. Verducci and an ingenious cameraman rustled up four pinto ponies and saddled on them the "four horsemen" who will probably make up Verducci's Gator backfield (left to right): Wayne Taylor, rh; Dick Ellis, qb; Bob Rodrigo, f; and Ed Coat, lh. When all the photograph fanfare was over, Verducci looked over the situation and speculated that this year's SFS team may even be better than last year's all-time best.

New Jeff 10s, 20s Cage Coach Has Tough Job But Prospects "Pleasant"

Taking over the 10s and 20s basketball teams Monday at Jefferson High school, new Coach Byron Van Alstyne observed that he couldn't take the two clubs anywhere but "down," after their whirlwind conquest of both PAL crowns last year under the old casaba master, Mike Orlich.

Despite his tough chore of trying to live up to last year's accomplishments, Van Alstyne says things look "pleasant," especially for the 120 exponent club, where the entire 110 line-up from last year will be moving up.

Graduating from the 10s to the larger club are Don Anderson, center, Ino Patron and Andy Roules, forwards, and Leroy Franzoia and Al Dye, guards, all of whom saw first string action with the champion 10s last year.

Others who may find their way into the line-up are Carl Mecchi and Tony Stagnaro, reservists on last year's 10s.

In the 10 division, Van Alstyne is counting on a couple of whiz-kid freshmen from Brisbane who have burnt up the Daly City recreation league in past years, Ross Holmgren and Steve Opperman. Ronny Kalinin is another frosh possible, while Wayne Lewis, Gordy Tydingco and Don Miller saw action as subs on the 10s last year and haven't grown out of the class in the one-year lapse.

Practice started Monday with 88 turning out for the two teams. Somewhere between then and today (Friday) the travelling squad will be cut to 12 for each team.

League play opens September 29 against Burlingame, and on October 4 the local cagers do battle with San Mateo. A practice game with S. F.'s Lincoln is set tentatively for next week.

Golf Tips

By BILL McARTHUR

Professional, Treasure Island Driving Range

A mistake made by all golfers regardless of ability is topping the ball or skying it. Actually these two mistakes are caused by the same fault. Naturally the beginner or high handicapped player will make this mistake far more than the top amateur of professional.

The fault:

Picking the club up from the ground as you start your backswing.

The correction:

Start the club back along the ground, in this way you keep the top of your body at the same level as when you addressed the ball.

With woods try to sweep the club back about 8 to 10 inches along the ground as you take it back. With the irons at least 4 to 6 inches back along the ground depending on the length of the iron. Remember:

Lifting the top of the body causes you to top the ball.

Lunging the top of the body back causes you to sky the ball. By sweeping the club back as you start the club away from the ball you will eliminate both of these mistakes.

Next week:

I might as well sell my two and three iron!
